Introducción

Training From the BACK of the Room (TBR), consiste en un conjunto de recursos, técnicas y principios basados en cómo funciona nuestro cerebro en procesos de aprendizaje, que está orientado a formadores para ayudar a los alumnos a aprender.

TBR es la formación oficial orientada no solo a formadores, sino también a oradores, Scrum Masters, Agile Coach, y en general cualquier persona que tenga que hablar en público y quiera involucrar a su audiencia en sus intervenciones para transmitir mejor su mensaje.

Entender los principios de como aprendemos, y diseñar la formación para sacar el máximo partido a esos principios, es la forma de trabajar en Netmind. Nuestra metodología docente NextB se basa precisamente en aplicar estos principios no solo en el aula, sino creando una nueva cultura de aprendizaje.

Objetivos

Candidates can expect to gain comprehension and awareness in the following upon successful completion of the components related to this course.

- Explain and define the most current brain science about human learning – information that is directly applicable to all instruction, whether in classrooms, one-on-one, or computer-based.
- Apply “The Six Trumps”– six learning principles based on brain science that will significantly enhance learning and retention, regardless of the content being taught.
- Recognize these six learning principles in action.
- Use these principles in any learning environment: classroom, elearning, one-on-one, small and large group instruction.
- Combine brain science and technology and enhance learning by using both in creative,
